Heila Lotz-Sisitka is the Murray & Roberts Chair of Environmental Education and Sustainability at Rhodes University in South Africa. She has contributed actively to the inclusion of environment and human rights concerns in South Africa's National Curriculum Statement and the Southern African Development Corporation Regional Environmental Education Programme. She also served as the Scientific Chair of the World Environmental Education Congress in 2007.

Akpezi Ogbuigwe is Head of Environmental Education and Training at the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP). Prior to joining UNEP, she was a Professor of Law at the Rivers State University of Science and Technology in Nigeria. She works with schools, communities, governments, and the private sector on issues of environment and development.

Heila Lotz-Sisitka is the Murray & Roberts Chair of Environmental Education and Sustainability at Rhodes University in South Africa. She has contributed actively to the inclusion of environment and human rights concerns in South Africa’s National Curriculum Statement and the Southern African Development Corporation Regional Environmental Education Programme. She also served as the Scientific Chair of the World Environmental Education Congress in 2007.

Mary Evelyn Tucker is Senior Lecturer and Research Scholar at Yale University’s School of Forestry and Environmental Studies and the Divinity School. She is Co-director of the Forum on Religion and Ecology and has written a ten book series for the Harvard University Press on Religion and Ecology. She is also a Co-chair of the Center’s Board of Advisors.

For further information, please visit the Center for Environmental and Sustainability Education at www.fgcu.edu/cese or contact us by email at cese@fgcu.edu or by phone at (239) 590-7166.