REGULATION: FGCU-PR6.024
Disqualification and Right to Appeal

06/18/13

A. DETERMINATION OF DISQUALIFICATION

1. When the results of the evaluation provided for under FGCU-PR6.023 show deficient performance, unjustified delay in completing work, defective or unacceptable workmanship, failure to comply with contract terms, or any other unfavorable result that adversely impacts the completion of the project, such results will be used to determine whether the firm or contractor should be disqualified from providing future services to the University.
2. If a review of the evaluation results support a determination of disqualification, the Director of Facilities Planning will recommend to the Vice President for Administrative Services and Finance, as the President's designee, that the offending firm or contractor be disqualified from participation on future University projects.

B. NOTICE OF DISQUALIFICATION

When the University has determined that the firm or contractor will be disqualified from participation on future University projects, the University shall notify the firm or contractor in writing of the specific grounds that are the basis for the disqualification

C. APPEAL

The appeal process to address a disqualification will be outlined in the Board of Governors Regulation 18.002.
